PACIFIC MAIL TO LOSE MONOPOLY.

Community Rates Ordered on Isthmian Freight.

Dickinson Rules Panama Line May Increase Toll.

Steamship Companies Review Tariffs at Capital.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, March 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of War Dickinson has announced that the steamship lines must pay the Panama Railroad 40 per cent. of the through business instead of 20 per cent. as it obtains at present; that they must establish community rates instead of the flat rate of $8 between New York and San Francisco, and that the agreement must be limited to two or three years, or until the canal is finished.

Bates and Cheesbrough urged that the proposed new line of government steamships shall always have full cargoes from New York to Panama and the Pacific Mail, apparently, has forever lost its monopoly of the shipping trade via the isthmus. This is the outcome of a hearing given this morning by Secretary Dickinson to representatives of the Pacific Mail, the California Atlantic and the American Hawaiian steamship companies on the complaint of the latter that the former were giving rebates and demoralizing the business. Both the Pacific Mail and Bates and Cheesbrough seemed cheerfully willing to fight it out and each of them declared that no complaint had been made.

DISCLAIMS REBATE CHARGES.
Cheesbrough explained that he had not been "rebating," he had merely cut the rate enough to get the business and had then billed the freight at $8. He said he did this for the benefit of the railroad, which had to get its 20 per cent. of the full rate.

New Orleans representatives expressed the fear that they might lose their position as a port of call between New York and San Francisco, but Secretary Dickinson assured them that while Bates and Cheesbrough had got in merely on a temporary arrangement, he was not going to take away any advantages that had accrued from their presence in the field.

Schwier, speaking for the Pacific Mail, bitterly resented the suggestion that his line was controlled in any way by the Southern Pacific, but his disclaimer seemed to be received somewhat incredulously.

On being asked by Schwier whether any stock in the California Atlantic Company was owned by railroads or railroad people, Cheesbrough declared that it was not.

He said that he had been compelled to cut no rates except on asphalt, lead, wine, wool and canned goods, and that in general when the rate was the same, shippers had given him line the business rather than turn it over to the Pacific Mail.

NEW HEAD FOR HONDURAS.
Dr. Francisco Beltran Takes Office Agreed Upon by Peace Conference Just Concluded.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
PUERTO CORTES (Honduras) March 8.—Dr. Francisco Beltran, who was agreed on last week by the Peace Conference as provisional President of Honduras, was elected yesterday by Congress as Premier Designate, or first Vice-President of the Republic. This is a full acceptance by the Congress of the conditions of the peace agreement and Beltran becomes the constitutional, as well as provisional, President of the country immediately on the resignation of President Davila.

RAILROAD POOL BUSTED.
STEAMSHIPS APPLY SCREW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
NEW YORK, March 8.—A threat recently made by the steamship companies to provide their immigrant passengers with first-class railroad transportation to western points at a cost to the immigrant only slightly more than the fares now charged by the railroads for third class transportation, has broken the so-called pool of railroads which handled the bulk of the immigrant traffic from Ellis Island. According to the contention of the steamship agents, the railroad pool has been routing its immigrant trains over unnecessarily out of the way lines.

EXCURSION RATES.
FARE BOOSTED IN EAST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, March 8.—At a special meeting of the Central Passenger Association yesterday it was decided to advance special summer excursion rates from points in Central Passenger Association territory, with the exception of Chicago to Niagara Falls and Atlantic City, this year by $1 over the rates that obtained last year. Summer tourist rates to those points will prevail so far as Chicago is concerned.

JURY INDICTS TRAINMEN.
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 8.—Twenty-four conductors, brakemen and porters employed by the Missouri-Pacific Railway have been indicted in the Federal court here on charges of violating the interstate commerce laws.

It is alleged the train men collected cash fares from passengers at lower rates than the published fare. The majority of the offenses, it is charged, were committed on the branch of the railroad which runs from Holston, Kan., to Kansas City. The published fare between the places is $5.35, but it is charged that the trainmen accepted $3 in cash in lieu of a ticket.

Trunk's Prescription FOR RHEUMATISM AND GOUT

Will positively overcome any kind of any case of Rheumatism or Gout on earth. This is a broad assertion, but it is true. You simply can't get Rheumatism or Gout if you follow the directions. It has never been known to fail in any form of Rheumatism. It does not ruin the stomach; it does not depress the heart; it does not contain any narcotics of any kind. It is the greatest acid solvent known and also a superior medicine. It is a life and a chance to allow anyone to suffer with Rheumatism or Gout when you can get Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism.

FIRE DRILL EFFICIENCY.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A fire in the basement of the Benjamin Harrison school served to create excitement this morning and demonstrated the efficiency of the fire signals system at the school. Paper caught from spontaneous combustion and started the fire. The smoke poured through the hallways and, at its first appearance, the fire signal was sounded and the building emptied of teachers and children in exactly forty seconds. The building occupants poured into the street rapidly and their appearance, coupled with the smoke coming from the open doorways, caused alarm. The janitor extinguished the blaze with a hand chemical. There was no loss.

than to quote any other source. The San Diego to participate in a demonstration of troops destroyed. They refused to attribute further significance to the matter.

Mr. Mai Winship and Lieut. recently made a trip to Calexico, the Mexican border town, and returned with a report and recommendations as to the situation in Washington.

IS A MERE PROBLEM?

It is absurd to suppose the movement of troops is the problem or of working out the problem or to demonstrate the efficiency of an army can be," said Burton Mitchell, chief of Gen. Funston, ranking officer in the manufacturing business and is present at the Alexandria. He is a member of the committee of ever problems in working in the army and besides troops and to maneuver problem troops and shell cartridges. The government is spending $1,000,000 a year in the manufacture of shells in Mexico and the lower valley justify the expense and the purpose to put the money out ought to have the same consideration.

Fitting Farewell.

BANQUET CROWNS NAVY LEAGUE'S CONVENTION.

Foremost of Southland's Social World and Highest Officers of Pacific Fleet Flock to Alexandria to Do Honor to City's Guests—Brilliant Speeches on Many Themes Form Finale.

LOS ANGELES at her best and bravest, the cream of her social and business and professional worlds, gathered last night to do honor to her guests, the delegates to the convention of the Navy League, in the banquet tendered them at the Alexandria.

Under the softened glow of a myriad of quaint paper lanterns suspended from the ceiling in a half-haze of green leaves and tender blossoms, assembled as representative a gathering of the social Southland as her metropolis affords.

As the Navy League includes, on its rolls of members, many of those of the highest attainment and achievement in every department of life, their hosts and hostesses were equally representative of the city to which their efforts mean much. In more ways than one, the function of last evening was a significant link in the bonds of union between the East and the West.

Merely as such, the banquet was a triumph. Southern California poured out her lavishment with both open hands, but with a taste and discrimination that kept the appointments to near perfection. The decorations were chosen with an eye to something effect that wrought charming results with the grouped tables, glittering with delicate china, polished silver and snowy napery.

Floral beauty to delight the eye, music to charm the ear, viands to please the palate and neat-turned phrases to distract the mind, all went into the ensemble of as successful a function as lies to the credit of the Los Angeles Four Hundred.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS. The great hall itself was a little fairyland of verdure and light and music. The walls were entirely invisible beneath a coat of leaves and branches, so thickly knit with sprays of orange blossoms as to hang a palpable garment of fragrance upon the room. Cunningly concealed within them were hundreds upon hundreds of tiny incandescents of different colors, glittering in their green setting like sparks of fire or precious gems—raindrops seen through sunshine on the leaves.

The lower effect was made complete by clothing the entire ceiling with branches whose drooping leaves made a sylvan roof like that of the forest itself. The cords which held suspended the tissue paper lanterns were hidden in long festoons of evergreen and asparagus plumosus and everywhere through the leaves peeped incandescents, bulbs, their light subdued by a curtain of ground glass.

At either end of the room were mounted the great shields bearing the cross and anchor of the Navy League, done in blue and gold of the navy whose interests it serves. The artistic scheme of decoration of which they were the final touch was carried to fulfillment upon the tables themselves, beautifully ornamented with great clusters of pink and white carnations, bound with broad ribbon. The menu itself, of appropriately named delicacies, was a silent tribute to the naval guests.

The brass and gold braid of the uniformed officers of the fleet added a vivid touch of color to the otherwise rather level monotony of formal costume; though not as much as their presence added to the gaiety of the occasion. The recollection of the nearly final touch to the social crown of the convention was an added spur to the cheer that kept the banquet hall in a ripple through hours that went on wings.

As for the members of the Navy League, it was conclusively demonstrated that the serious business of finding out what the nation needs in the way of a navy and helping to get it, is not without its lighter side. Where it actually in the power of that industrial organization to secure thirteen new first-class battleships for the Pacific Coast, Los Angeles would have well-nigh laid herself open to the charge of attempted bribery last night.

THE LAST WORD. By way of final touch upon their convention work, a report of the Committee on Resolutions was presented by Chairman Lincoln G. Cummings. One comprised a vote of confidence in the Navy Department and in its administrators, a second advocated urging before Congress the establishment of a merchant marine as a naval reserve, a third recommends the forming of an adequate navy, and a fourth called for the formation of State Committees of the League, in order that its affairs may be more directly and efficiently handled. Resolutions embodying votes of thanks to Rear-Admiral Cone and to the hosts of the convention were warmly applauded.

The crowning touch to the banquet was the receipt of a personal telegram from President Taft, as follows: "Heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a successful convention. I very much appreciate the interest the League is taking in the navy." Its reading was greeted with prolonged applause and cheers. Telegrams were also received from the president of the League, Gen. Horace Porter, its secretary, Lieut. Henry H. Ward, the naval author, Henry Rietzschel, and lastly, from the marooned delegates to San Francisco who were to have taken a prominent part in the programme—Joseph Scott, James Slauson, Willis Booth and J. A. Anderson.

In place of the first-named, who was to have served as toast-master, Dr. Robert J. Burdette performed in a service. Though he whimsically affected to sympathize with his audience on the change, he kept them in continuous laughter and applause with characteristic introductions to the speakers.

At the speakers' table were seated Capt. Randolph H. Miner, who presided, Rear-Admiral Thomas, Rear-Admiral Cone, Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, Dr. Burdette, Rear-Admiral T. C. McLean, Gen. J. P. Story, Lincoln G. Cummings, Capt. Harlow, Capt. Strauss, W. S. Lloyd, Rev. Baker P. Lee, H. W. O'Melveny, Eldredge Strauss and James Phelps. The latter two were of the list of speakers, their subjects being the "Merchant Marine," and "A Great Navy as a Guarantee of Peace."

to "Los Angeles," in the unavoidable absence of James Slauson, to whom it was assigned, was given by Gurney Newlin. Into it he cunningly wove a clever tribute to the ladies present, denominating them the source of the world at large, but as well of them in whose hands the naval and military affairs of the nation are given. He said in part:

"To you of the navy and of the Navy League, it may perhaps be a source of wonder that Los Angeles, so near the sea, should not actually lie upon that element upon which our future strength must be developed. Shall I tell you why? It is because when the padres of old, came up from the far south and wandered through the great San Gabriel Valley, that they might find a place for their founding, they were tempted alike to the mountains upon one side and to the placid sea upon the other.

"And because they were unable to decide, they halted midway between them, where the beauties of both are alike to be seen and enjoyed. There, midway between the Sierras and the sea we have founded our principality on happiness and rest and peace. We have not shown you all the beauties of Los Angeles, our city, because it is our wish that you should return to us again to accept the love and hospitality and fellowship we offer you.

"So long as westward the star of empire takes its way, so long shall endure the bond of fellowship between ourselves and those of the sea. For beyond the sea we cannot go—that shall always be the domain of the navy that I give you as a toast. To that queen of the fleets of the nations which carries the heritage of our strength and the bulwark of our prosperity—the American navy!" (Applause.)

"CALIFORNIA." Responding to the fruitful toast of "California," Rev. Baker P. Lee, expressed his whimsical gratification at the selection of a topic built to fit him—"extremely" long, not very thick, but provided with splendid terminal facilities." He said in part:

"It is pre-eminently fitting that the Naval League should meet here in California, since this State alone has more than one-fifth of the coast line of the entire country, and it is also appropriate that having learned that the Los Angeles River occasionally takes a dry-martini that you should have conspired with the elements to bring the water along with you, however, in this land of civility we are willing to 'take water' and give you back golden products. The navel orange, for instance, should certainly be the emblem of the Naval League. Since the padres have done so much for the State in its early history, it is fitting that a padre should now respond to this toast, and Stands Her Ground.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE OF BUNKER HILL.

Miss Pearl Gleason, who carried a Second-street tunnel banner into the First-street camp, and refused to be ejected.

THE Barbara Fietchie of Bunker Hill is a title Miss Pearl Gleason, clerk of the library board, gained for herself in appearing Tuesday night at a meeting of the First-street tunnel promoters and displaying a second-street tunnel banner. Miss Gleason stood her ground and almost broke up the meeting.

"Who harms a hair of that fair head," said Constable George W. Yarow, when they tried to put her out, and Miss Gleason kept her seat through all the storm and stress that followed.

"We know who you are," suggested Wiesendanger, "and all about your troubles with the Civil Service Commission."

"You are referring to another Miss Gleason who is assistant librarian," replied Miss Gleason sweetly, "and her troubles were all disposed of without any discredit to herself."

ber of men rounded up Wiesendanger and took him severely to task for his ungallant conduct toward Miss Gleason, who is well and favorably known to all of them.

The First-street promoters have decided to drop the plan for a two or three-hour tunnel and will circulate a petition for a single bore, to have the same entrance on Broadway, but to come out on Diamond street at Figueroa. The tunnel is proposed to be thirty-two feet wide, and when completed would cost $300,000, instead of $500,000, according to the plans submitted the City Council.

HE KNEW WOMAN'S WAY.

The Tale of a Lost Purse and a Hotel Clerk's Exercise of Horse Sense. Result Astounding.

In a rather excited frame of mind, Mrs. J. W. Ross of Denver, rushed up to Chief Clerk Pederson at the Van Nuys, yesterday, and declared that she had been robbed of her purse containing more than $700. The theft was committed either in the hotel or on the way from the depot, a short time before.

Bell hops were immediately sent to search for the missing purse; maids were notified to look for it, and Mrs. Ross returned to her room at the suggestion of the clerk to seek through her luggage.

Pederson, meantime, recalled reading a story in the morning papers of a woman who reported exactly a similar loss at the Lankershim. Tuesday, while he was wondering, bell hops, maids and porters came and reported no success in the hunt. Finally Mrs. Ross and her friend, Mrs. C. W. Danov of Colorado Springs, returned and declared that she had had the purse just before alighting from the train at the depot.

MISS TURNBULL LOSES BALDWIN WILL FIGHT

THE DISTANCE FLAG fell on the Turnbull entry for the rich Baldwin stakes, in Judge Rives's court yesterday. It "failed to show." And the "rail-birds" who have been in the habit of getting up early in the morning to see how the fight got over the ground, had nothing left but a few unused tickets and a broken New Year resolution to show for their investment.

Judge Rives granted the motion interposed in behalf of the defendants (the Baldwin heirs), for a directed verdict, and the verdict as returned by the jury, was as follows:

"That there never was a marriage, either valid or null in law, or any marriage whatsoever, between the mother of Beatrice Anita Baldwin, otherwise known as Beatrice Anita Turnbull, and the said E. J. Baldwin.

"That Beatrice Anita Baldwin, otherwise known as Beatrice Anita Turnbull, is not the legitimate daughter or legitimate child of E. J. Baldwin, deceased."

On the part of the Baldwin heirs, it is declared that with the exception of a great mass of the testimony relating to alleged relations existing between Miss Ashley and Col. Albert Pope and others, previous to her alliance with Baldwin, that a second hearing of the celebrated case will consume not to exceed ten days. This, of course, is predicated upon the supposition that the Supreme Court will send the case back for a rehearing.

On the part of the Baldwin heirs, it is declared that the chances of success of Mrs. Turnbull before the higher courts are most remote, and the decision of that tribunal in the celebrated Sharkey case, covering slight evidence, and the decision by that court involving the same issues represented in the hearing that has just closed, in the opinion of counsel will forever bar any further litigation by the contestant in the matter, so far as any alleged marriage between Baldwin and Miss Ashley is concerned.

There is a possibility, therefore, that the case will be retried in the local courts, provided no settlement is made, and the Baldwin heirs laugh at such a suggestion as a settlement.

COSTS ENORMOUS. The decision of Judge Rives therefore ends, for the time being at least, one of the most important cases, both on account of the issues involved as well as the value of the property of which Miss Turnbull demanded a share as the natural daughter of Baldwin, ever heard in the courts of California. There has been a mass of testimony adduced since the beginning of the hearing December 12 last, and it is estimated that the transcript will amount to 125,000 words, the stenographers' fees being in excess of $4000.

The amount of money spent by the parties in interest can only be approximately ascertained. It is concerned, her end of the proposition were financed by her attorneys, Walter B. Grant of Boston, Isadore Dockwiler, A. W. Hutton and Genser Williams of this city, and their cost bill is more than $22,000. They took the remuneration under an order of the court, was to be fixed by Judge Rives at the conclusion of the trial, provided the verdict was in favor of Miss Turnbull. Under the arrangement they will secure nothing, being out the money and their time, amounting to months of preparation and actual trial.

The amount of money spent by the Baldwin heirs can only be surmised. During the arguments to the court on the question of the directed verdict, Isadore Dockwiler made the statement that more than $100,000 had been spent in maintaining testimony, securing the attendance of high price witnesses and experts, and the statement was not disputed. It is believed that the figures are conservative.

The heirs were represented by Garrett McEnerney and Gavin McNab of San Francisco, Bradner W. Lee, Esq., of Los Angeles, and Walter J. Trask of this city. Attorney McEnerney yesterday estimated the cost of the suit from the Baldwin end to about $25,000, as follows: stenographers, $2000; James R. Wood, $2000; A. Redding, $2000; photos, $2000; experts, $1500; witnesses' expenses, $2500; detectives, $1000.

After the verdict was rendered, an agreement was reached that nothing will be done until the 21st inst., when the findings of the jury will be made judgment signed. At that time a notice of appeal to the Supreme Court will be made. The big Baldwin estate will be tied up for at least another year.

WHAT SHE FOUGHT FOR. "Lucky" Baldwin died at Arcadia

March 1, 1909, and under the terms of his will that was uncontested, the princely realm owned by the famous horseman and all-round sport was divided among the widow, Lilly Bennett Baldwin, whom he married in 1884, and the three children, Anita Baldwin, McEnerney, Clara Baldwin Stocker and Zeida Selby, the first two residing in this county, and Mrs. Selby in Oakland. It was further provided in the will that if any other claimants for a share of the estate should appear, or she should be given $10, and if one of the points urged in behalf of the defense that even if Miss Turnbull was a daughter of Baldwin, she should have only $10.

The value of the Baldwin estate is variously estimated. The appraisal made by the late James Paulsen, placed the figure at about $11,000,000, but those in a position to know say that the appreciation in value of the land since these figures were made is sufficient to offset more than the original claim of the Hibernian Savings Bank of San Francisco, which was $1,250,000. The Baldwin holding covers thousands of acres of the most valuable land in Los Angeles county, purchased in ranches by Baldwin who the land was comparatively worthless when by the aid of his friends, he got onto the property, only to find that at the time of his death he was the possessor of a king's ransom not only in acreage but in value. There are also large holdings in San Francisco valuable real estate, including the Baldwin Hotel Annex, that under the will will go to Mrs. Baldwin, the widow. The Baldwin real estate at Lake Tahoe comprises thousands of acres.

Boyle Heights Harness Dealer Relates Key to Former Shop and Repudiates His Stock by Two Night Visits—Thief Trip He Was Nabbed by Detectives.

Albert Hayman of No. 369 Esperanza street, Boyle Heights, proprietor of a harness shop at No. 348 South Broadway street, was arrested by Detectives Beaumont and Roberts at the address of William Scott, at No. 13 South Los Angeles street, last night. He confessed to the detectives that he had robbed the place several times.

Hayman worked for Scott until about a month ago, when he started in business. He kept a key to Scott's store, however, and used it to replenish the stock of his own shop.

His first visit, he said, was February 13, when he stole two pairs of harness and saddle material. He repeated the trick eight nights later, and again on the 5th inst. The losses had been discovered by Scott and reported to the police. The two detectives were sent to wait for the burglar.

Last night Hayman was caught as he was leaving the place at 8 o'clock carrying a large bundle. He had a strong man and resisted arrest, but was overpowered and taken to jail.

DOUBT CAST ON JUSTICE.

Incumbent Now Lives in Los Angeles Township Though Presiding in Chahuenga, by Change of Boundary.

An unusual combination of circumstances has placed the residence of a Chahuenga township in the position of not knowing whether they have a justice of the peace. Chief Deputy District Attorney Hanna has been requested by the Board of Supervisors to file the doubt. He is now struggling with the knot.

H. D. Canne formerly held the office of a new man was selected at the election to succeed him. The choice of the people failed to qualify. Under such circumstances, the law provides that the incumbent shall continue to hold office. Canne kept on settling disputes.

Meantime the city annexed some of the territory over which Canne's jurisdiction extended. The Supervisor then added this part to Los Angeles township. They included the part which Canne resided. Under the law the magistrate must reside within the domain over which he presides.

The question was raised as to whether the action of the Supervisor was legal, as the statutes provide that they cannot change the township boundaries so as to affect the incumbent of judicial positions.

If Canne is an incumbent by virtue of holding over, the townships of Chahuenga and Los Angeles are in a main as they were originally cast. The action of the officials is proper then Canne cannot preside in Chahuenga township, as he does not reside within it.

ASSAULT ALLEGED.

R. V. Bashore and W. E. Douglas, who crew of the East First-street car engaged in a fight with Frank Giovannetti, a glass worker at Fire and Glass streets, Tuesday night, were arrested, yesterday afternoon, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Are You Dissatisfied with your position? If so, a more satisfactory place can be found, by reading The Times "Help Wanted" columns.

Some one will pay you a salary commensurate with your worth, and The Times classified advertisements point the way to remunerative and permanent employment.

The Times "Liner" section contains an antidote for every "want." A careful reading of these busy little ads will reveal many money making opportunities to persons who desire to buy, sell or trade. On Sunday, March 5, The Times printed 6764 separate "Liners," or 3223 more than the aggregate number printed by the two other Los Angeles morning papers, and it regularly publishes more advertising than any other paper in the world.

man Oil Company. Mr. Price has prepared the following statement for The Times, and a similar presentation will be brought to the attention of the department:

"It may be said that of all taxes levied at this date, none is more equitable than that levied on the resources provided by nature, those that cannot be reproduced, in which future generations can not participate."

"I regard the ruling of the Treasury Department as being in error, in trying to arrive at values of liquid mineral deposits by the same rule applied to solid mineral deposits, also differentiating between corporations of two periods. Solid mineral deposits are a fixed proposition, can be seen and their approximations determined. The value can be estimated from what is in sight and the estimate can be added to as development occurs. Liquid minerals are unseen, not fixed and a fugitive. Estimates of quantities are based entirely on assumption at will, speculative and any approximation is very doubtful until the liquid is finally exhausted."

"Any theoretical denial of such an assumption is just as unreliable. Liquid minerals are determined by drilling a hole, estimating thickness of sand and its saturation. Lying on a plain, like conditions are assumed to extend under all the adjoining acreage. There is no mathematical way of proving false the assumption of lying on a plain, that those favored corporations formed prior to January 1, 1909, may assume, until the liquid has been exhausted and the government has lost, through the percentages allowed, on the basis of possible units and values at that date."

SANDS VARY IN THICKNESS.

"Sands will vary in thickness from a few feet to several hundred feet, and saturation, from a nominal percentage to 25 per cent, and over, and experience has taught that all estimates of possible production incline to an overestimate, and it would not be strange if the companies incorporated prior to January 1, 1909, would take a rosy view of their units and values, and their position theoretically is as tenable (and it is all theory) as that of the one who denies it."

"Usually, the value of lands, after assuming a certain thickness of sand and a certain amount of saturation, is found in two ways. The speculator or developer views the possibilities by the acre, and the going market possibilities at the time he is disposed to sell, which might be from $100 to $500 or more per acre. He is a developer and a producer only incidentally. The large operating and producing companies, who were in the field prior to January 1, 1909, hold either directly or through subsidiary companies, the greater portion of the known oil territory in the State, perhaps 80 per cent, and will take the position that they are not sellers of oil land, but buyers and producers and manufacturers, the last party next to the consumer, and do not figure their assets by the acre, but by the value on the estimated units or barrels theoretically supposed to be underlying the land. As the life of their business as a going concern is dependent upon having sufficient raw material for future delivery, and as they deal in barrels by the millions each year, all at their command has another value and they have a different basis of figuring values from that of the developer or small operating company, which has to pass its raw material through the hands of the larger operating companies, and in this way they can justify and determine their asset values to be tens of thousands of dollars per acre on January 1, 1909. If they should conclude to take the going average gross market value and after making the usual deductions, should conclude that the balance is the value per barrel of the total units estimated, they would be theoretically correct. It is logical to presume that they can easily justify themselves in placing the value at 10 cents per unit or barrel."

"Corporations formed since January 1, 1909, under the rules are not permitted to figure their asset values except on the basis of the actual cost of the property to the corporation. That is correct, for they have simply secured a position to capture and store a fugitive liquid, but it should apply to all corporations. There is a variation in the treatment of the two periods and the government falls immeasurably short of collecting from the earlier corporations, under the rule, the same equitable proportion of taxes that will be obtained from those companies incorporated since January 1, 1909. To illustrate: A company is formed prior to January 1, 1909. It buys 160 acres, cost $250 per acre; depth of sand, 200 feet; saturation, 15 per cent; total barrels or units in 160 acres, 37,296,000 barrels, valued at 10 cents per barrel would give a total value of $3,729,600, or $23,110 per acre. Production, 1,000,000 barrels sold for $500,000; cost of production, $500,000; decrease in assets, 10 cents per barrel, $100,000; balance, $200,000.

"There would still remain as the asset value of this company, $3,529,600 from which to make deductions hereafter. At that rate of production, that sum would not be exhausted for thirty-six years."

ANOTHER EXAMPLE.

"A corporation formed since January 1, 1909, buys the adjoining 160 acres, pays $5000 per acre, would be allowed to estimate its asset values at only $800,000. Geologically there would be no reason to doubt that there is the same depth of sand and the same saturation, and we will assume there is the same production, has the same cost of production, and sells at the same price, and it would logically have to be allowed the same rate per barrel for depreciation in asset value. The result would be that this latter company after seven years would have exhausted its asset values, and would thereafter be taxed on sums that the corporation formed prior to January 1, 1909, would be allowed to offset from their asset values. One can easily see that corporations formed at one period are going to be greater beneficiaries under the present ruling than those formed at another period."

"The only way a just tax can be levied on companies operating in minerals is to first establish separate rules for corporations producing solid minerals, and for those producing liquid minerals, and then take the position that the courts will sustain, that oil is a fugitive, that physical possession only determines ownership; that the possession of the surface is only the possession of a position to save trespassing for the purpose of capturing the circulating fluid supposed to be underlying; that the oil itself is not an asset to be measured or valued, until possessed, until brought to the surface and stored."

LOST HILLS DISTRICT.

POLLAK TALKS OF IT.

A. J. Pollak, one of the best-known consulting petroleum engineers of the State, came down from San Francisco yesterday on his way to the Tampico oil district of Mexico. Mr. Pollak is going into the neighboring republic to examine petroleum lands in the interest of a San Francisco syndicate.

Incidentally, while here, Pollak took a fall out of some of the rosy stories anent the Lost Hills field. He has spent much time in that district, and has made a careful study of the geological formations. While not desiring to appear in the role of a knocker, Pollak says it is folly to talk of wells having a production of 800 barrels daily. At the present time, he says, there are but two producing wells in the entire district. While the territory is considered a shallow one, he says one company put down a well over 1600 feet in the hope of getting a more prolific oil sand, but got no trace of oil except in the first shallow penetration. Pollak does not say that the district

A LUCKY MILLIONAIRE.
 The American millionaire who sought a divorce from her third matrimonial experiment made a mistake when she entrusted her securities to the unspeakable Turk for safe keeping, for his serene and incomparable highness incidentally swiped them. It is fortunate for the lady that Paris and not Constantinople was the scene of her financial inadvertence. Otherwise the howling, a sack, and the Bosphorus might have answered her efforts to recover her property. In Turkey, according to the Koran, women have no souls, and there the suffragette thrives not.

GROHAN'S HEN.
 Let parrots and magpies and turkeys and all members of the feathered tribe make obeisance to Grohan's hen. She is a white Leghorn and is her owner's guide, philosopher and friend. Grohan is employed at Tarrytown, N. Y. His home is in the suburbs. He goes to his work every morning by trolley car. The hen follows him to the car and when she sees him safely on board she returns home, where she attends to providing an egg for his breakfast the next morning. The New York Sun is authority for the statement, made with apparent earnestness, that on the morning of March 1 Grohan overslept and, in his hurry to catch the trolley, he forgot about the hen until he boarded the car. He heard a flapping of wings behind him and saw his hen flying up from the ground. She lighted on his shoulder and just then he dropped his nickel with which he was going to pay his fare. The hen flew from his shoulder, picked up the coin with her beak and flew back to him. After she had seen him give the coin to the conductor and had heard the fare rung up she flew home. Perhaps this story was intended for April 1 and leaked out prematurely.

THE BROWN-BREAD BARONET.
 Heaven be praised! At last we have a substitute for the bold, bad Baronet of the medieval romance; the practical brown-bread Baronet of Rolleston has redeemed the honor of his tribe. From this time forward, when we read of Sir Somebody This or Sir Nobody That, we shall no longer picture in our mind's eye a beetle-browed villain incarcerating very youthful heroes and heroines in noisome dungeons, but shall call up the vision of a cherubic baker releasing savory loaves of crisp brown bread from genial, glowing ovens. The Baronet business henceforth is entered in the philanthropic class of modern exhibits. Orders from all over the United Kingdom are pouring into Rolleston for his nutritious product and nearly swamping the well-meaning Baronet. But Sir Oswald Moseley, the gentleman baker of England, like old King Cole, is a merry old soul, and his patriotism is equal to the demand on his capacious bake-ovens. He is determined to save John Bull the painful necessity of taking it still further his already diminished waistcoat and to restore to him his goodly proportions of happier days. And this, not by imperial expansion or by socialist padding, but simply by grinding his daily flour for him in old-fashioned mills and between upper and nether stones. The general decline in the British physique he attributes to the general use of whitened bread instead of the good, old-fashioned, robust, whole-meal loaf. As this philanthropic Baronet at the age of 65 is younger and heartier than many of his fellow-countrymen who have only reached the quarter-century mark, it really seems as though Sir Oswald has found a specific for the present woes of old England. Our hats off to the brown-bread Baronet! Should he decide to visit Los Angeles, as all famous men and women do sooner or later, he will be as welcome in this office as the flowers in May; more welcome even than Harry Lauder, Sylvia Pankhurst, Owen Moran or any other of his well-known compatriots. Especially if he brings a few steaming loaves along with him.

IMPROVEMENTS AT PANAMA.
 At Panama the tides rise and fall fourteen to twenty-four feet; only vessels of light draught can come up to the seawall, and "for a time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary" passengers and freight have been unloaded from and loaded upon ocean steamers by means of lighters.

For half a mile out from the shore of the city there are rocky flats, some of which are almost bare at low water. It is proposed by President Arosemena of the Republic of Panama to fill in these flats so as to bring the city out to deep water. This will cost $10,000,000 and will make Panama one of the great ocean ports of the world.

It is not expected that all west-bound vessels will go all the way from European and American Atlantic ports to Pacific and Orient ports. A vessel will be loaded at Liverpool, for instance, with freight for San Francisco and Valparaiso. At either the Atlantic or the Pacific terminus of the canal her freight will be transferred directly from her hold into the holds of steamers bound north or south. This transfer will be effected in the harbor, in deep water, by means of great traveling cranes on barges. Similar work to that which is projected at Panama will be done at Balboa, 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth which will come from the Culebra cut will be required for the work.

The San Francisco-Panama Fair Commissioners will need to be diligent, for, according to the latest estimates, the canal will be completed in 1913 so that deep-sea ships will be able to pass through it.

VINDICATION OF BALLINGER.

The blackguards who have been vainly endeavoring to induce ex-Secretary Ballinger to descend into a sewer in order to throw dirt with them will attempt in vain to make the public believe that even the hem of the garment of their victim has been stained by the mud they have thrown at him. He is their victim only in that their false and malicious attacks have impaired his health and have despoiled him of the modest competency which he was compelled to expend in his defense.

But, in a larger sense he is not their victim, for there is no renown gained by holding high office and no honest accumulations of a life of industry that could constitute so priceless a heritage for his children as the following words of President William Howard Taft:

"Let me renew my expressions of affection and sincerest respect for you and of my profound gratitude for your hard work, your unvarying loyalty and your effective public service. I do not hesitate to say that you have been the object of one of the most unscrupulous conspiracies for the defamation of character that history can produce."

Ex-Secretary Ballinger avers that it is his purpose "to prosecute the archconspirators who have been following him with the assassin's knife." Fair-minded men will wish him success in such efforts, for the scoundrels who have hounded him deserve a diet of corn meal mush, to an accompaniment of treadmill music, for the balance of their slanderous lives.

TAFT AS A FRIEND.
 President Taft follows the advice of Polonius to Laertes, "the friend thou hast fasten him to thy heart with hooks of steel." In the characteristic of fearless, outspoken, unshrinking, devoted loyalty to either a cause in which he believed or in a man in whom he believed, President Taft resembles Gen. Grant. Politicians and even some statesmen will not always openly espouse an unpopular cause even if they believe in it or defend a man attacked by slanderers even when they know the slanderers to have no foundation. Many men hesitate to injure their own popularity by standing by a friend who is assailed. Not so with our President. He is not easily deceived. He is a man of ripe judgment and of wide experience with men and affairs. A corrupt man would not be tolerated by him, and no man with whom he came in intimate contact could deceive him.

President Taft's indorsement of ex-Secretary Ballinger will endear him to every man who hates injustice and despises slanderers. His letter to Ballinger was unsolicited, emphatic and manly. Only a cowardly malicious retailer of spent slanders will venture to question the integrity of Ballinger, or the greatness of soul of William Howard Taft. Those journals which have for political reasons loaned their columns from time to time to abuse of Ballinger will probably rage at Taft, but their raging will have no more effect than the outcries of canines against the moon.

ANOTHER PATCH.

"Again it is the patch; you're right it is the patch." And now it is acknowledged that the batch of precinct statesmen who framed and caused to be submitted fifteen patches to the city charter—all of which were adopted in Monday's election, except the one raising salaries—illustrated their capacity to blunder and their incapacity to do anything else, and that, in order to straighten things out it will be necessary to patch again.

Whereupon The Times remarks: "We told you so; we told you so."

Unless there shall be a new lot of patches, the recall of appointive officers—that beloved offspring of good-governance and insurgency—has "gone glimmering through the mists of things that were." The City Clerk, the City Treasurer and the Tax and License Collector were under the charter as it was before election—elective officers. By the patchwork amendments they are made appointive officers.

The chief engineer of waterworks, the health officer, the Chief of Police, the Fire Chief and that brand-new officer, the City Prosecutor, are all appointive officers who were supposed to be subject to recall, under the amended charter, equally with the members of all commissions—public service, harbor, public works, public utilities, park, police, fire, health, playground and municipal art, and all heads of departments named by the commissions.

But under the amendments adopted on Monday the "recall" is obliterated from city government so far as the appointive officials enumerated are concerned. The recall, according to the new charter, is to be invoked upon petition of "25 per cent. of the vote cast" for the officer whom it is desired to recall, political, personal, or financial reasons to direct of his office. But as those officers are appointive and nobody voted for them, how can it be managed to obtain 25 per cent. of nobody? Twenty per cent. of five votes would be one vote. How much of 20 per cent. of a cipher? Will some of the precinct statesmen consult their arithmetics and make answer, for verily the brain of The Times mathematician is unable to make the computation.

The charter breaches of the city will have to be patched again, but the tailors will not regret it, for they can take another whack at the salary-raising patch and maybe the voters will be more generous next time. Prepare another crazy quilt, dear friends!

HISING SENATOR BAILEY.

It was a cruel and a member of the State Legislature administered to Senator Joe Bailey when he offered a resolution inviting Senators Bailey and Lorimer to lecture on "Purity in Politics." Lorimer is not yet out of the woods. There were forty votes to unseat him and forty-five to retain him in his seat. When the Senate shall again meet there will be seven new Senators—who will probably vote to expel him—to take the places of seven Senators who voted to acquit him. All the evidence taken during his investigation has not been printed, but enough has been given to the public to show that the Senators who voted to allow Lorimer to retain his seat did so on the ground that, even when bribery is shown, it is not necessary for the accused Senator to give testimony under oath, or otherwise consent to undergo cross-examination; that a Republican Senator may be chosen by the aid of the purchased votes of Democratic money with which to pay them; that when a Senator is accused of bribery it is the duty of the accusers to prove the bribery—as in any criminal case—beyond a reasonable doubt, and that, if Lorimer did buy a lot of Democrats, he did it as Eccles stole his baby granddaughter's coral necklace, "with the best intentions."

Senator Bailey enjoys the distinction of being the only Senator of the United States that was ever hanged by the gallies. Senator Crawford, who opposed the retention of Lorimer in a brilliant and forceful speech, was applauded by the galleries. The President of the Senate mildly reproved the galleries for applauding, as such a practice is a violation of the decorum of the Senate chamber, whereupon the wild and woolly Texas champion of Lorimer arose and popped the chestnut with which speakers of meager intelligence have insulted adverse audiences for more than a century, saying, "Never mind, Mr. President, the applause is a fair measure of the intelligence of the audience." And thereupon the audience gave to the Texan a full measure of their intelligence by bestowing upon him a chorus of hisses.

THE SUPRAGETTES IN ENGLAND.

Out of 37,950 women in England who were canvassed as to their desire to have Parliamentary suffrage 18,850 were actively opposed to it. 12,621 were too indifferent to answer and only 5579 were actively in favor of it. It would be interesting to know what would be the result of a straw vote among the women of California. Won't some of the sisters arrange to take one in Los Angeles?

UNCLE WALT.

The poet philosopher.
 The Ben Davis Apple is lovely in hue, it seems to invite you to step up and chew. It's pretty and shapely, its profile is fine—But I do not long for Ben Davis in mine. To eat a Ben Davis is wasting your time; it tastes like a mattress and drives you to crime. I ate a Ben Davis when I was quite young, and now I recall it whenever I'm stung. It taught me a lesson, a lesson I prize, it sharpened my wolf-teeth and opened my eyes. And now when a faker comes up to my door, to sell me some stock in a mine full of ore, I think of Ben Davis, and say to him "Nix," and tell him to vanish and pelt him with bricks. And when I encounter an oily-tongued jay, too sweet and too gracious for man made of clay, professing affection approach me with his paw, and give him a shove. I read in the magazine pages of men who'd make us all wealthy, again and again; they're brokers or dealers in moonshine and mist—just send them two hucks and they'll mail you a list! Their glittering spools don't appeal to my fits; I think of Ben Davis, and throw a few fits.

Chap Traveling in America.

An American touring in Europe kept a careful account of his railway expenses. He covered 2154 miles in eleven journeys varying in length from 38 to 197 miles. The total fare paid was $76.55 and the charges for baggage-carrying were $19.42, or $95.97 in all. This figures close to 4.12 cents per mile. Coming home, these expenses were covered with those of eleven railway trips in the United States, varying from 49 to 411 miles, the total distance being 3211 miles. The costs were $62.90, including those for parlor car seats and excess baggage. The rate per mile was a little more than 2.8 cents. This would make European railway travel more than 55 per cent. more expensive than that in America. One by one the beliefs that Europe is a vastly cheaper place to live in and more about in than the United States are being dissipated by cold facts. It is known that meat is higher over there; that lumber is so high that it cannot be considered in a poor man's estimate for home building; that leather is higher; that only the poorer qualities of clothing are really cheap. There was undoubtedly a time of easier living, but so also was there such a

SCIENCE NOTES.

The French military and colonial authorities are evolving a great scheme of wireless telegraphy, the object of which is to link up across the desert the West African possessions with the great colony of Algeria and thus bring them into direct communication with Paris. It was at first feared that the electric tension of the atmosphere, which has been frequently noted in the desert, would interfere with the propagation of the Hertzian waves.

Experiments, however, which have been recently carried out at El Biod, Kheba, Mecheria and Colomb Biehar prove conclusively that such is not the case, for, notwithstanding that the apparatus was of the most rudimentary character, it was found possible to receive not only the signals agreed upon from the post at Fort de D. L'Eau, near Algiers, but even communications emanating from certain English and great transatlantic stations. These experiments will now be continued at Elgoles and further south, but there seems no reason to doubt that in the near future the most distant posts occupied by the French in central Africa will be connected by wireless telegraphy.

This scheme, though it will precede, will nevertheless not supersede, the older project of a transatlantic telegraph line from Algeria to West Africa, which has already been partially surveyed, but which, from the fact that it will have to be carried over 1200 miles of desert, will be a long and difficult operation.

Hygiene, the circular of the International Hygienic Exhibition, which is to be held in Dresden next year, states that vaccination or inoculation, which is commonly regarded as a triumph of modern medical science, has long been practiced by the civilized races of Asia, and even by African and other savages, probably as a result of Asiatic influence. We first meet inoculation for smallpox among the Chinese. Lockhart gives the following quotation from an old Chinese manuscript, which was probably written early in the eleventh century: "The ancients possessed the knowledge of inoculation for smallpox. It has come down to us from the reign of Chin-tung, of the Ling dynasty, and was discovered by a philosopher. When the disease breaks out spontaneously it is very serious and often fatal, but when it is produced by inoculation it is usually mild and does not cause more than one death in 10,000 cases." In Persia inoculation is accomplished by scratching the forearm and rubbing into the slight wound after bleeding has ceased the pulverized scurf which falls from a smallpox patient. The Ashante negroes, according to Bowditch, inoculate in seven places on the arms and legs. The Moors practice the same method. The Siamese have the peculiar custom of blowing the scurf into the nose.

The advantages of manganese steel are too evident to permit it to be overlooked by machine builders and others. Thus, the great shovels used in such excavation as that going on in connection with the Panama Canal have oftentimes to deal with a material not earth and not rock. For such use a manganese steel is serviceable, as it is both hard and tough. The face plates of lifting magnets must fulfil two requirements. They must be nonmagnetic and they must be capable of withstanding severe shocks. Manganese steel answers to both requirements. It might be thought that a lifting magnet performs its service quietly and easily, but a little reflection will convince that the powerful magnetic attraction suddenly created over an irregular pile of pig iron will be answered by very considerable shocks as the pigs throw themselves against the face plate. Brass has been used for this purpose, but manganese steel seems to be preferable for severe service. Crushing machinery employs parts where the abrasive action is terrific. For such usage manganese steel has been found to meet the requirements well.

PROGRESS IN CALIFORNIA.

By WALTER J. BALLARD.

This is the showing of progress in bank clearings and building permits (principal cities) in California from January 29 to February 25, inclusive:

	Bank Clearings	Building Permits
San Francisco	$182,669,542	$1,790,430
Los Angeles	64,754,098	1,014,823
(Building permits to Feb. 25, only.)
Oakland	12,015,880	298,288
Sacramento	5,286,346	129,090
San Diego	5,426,265	223,125
Pasadena	3,002,761	175,882
Fresno	3,001,950 (est.)	100,000
Stockton	2,308,568	63,070
San Jose	1,834,160 (est.)	100,000

Totals 380,390,557 3,863,518
 That means more than $12,500,000 a day bank clearings for each day of the month (Sundays and holidays included), and over $125,000,000 a day for building permits issued. For a State of only 2,500,000 men, women and children that record shows remarkable progress.

 The California Development Board is sending a lecturer and an exhibit to the International Exposition, Turin, Italy, which will be opened April 29, by the King and Queen of Italy. The entire American exhibit will be one of the most attractive exhibits. European papers already commend the American (government) building.

Bradstreet says that California oil wells have paid over $40,000,000 in dividends in the past twenty years (averaging over $3,000,000 a year), and that development is very active.

In January alone 1416 new registrations of motor vehicles were made with the Secretary of State for California.

The United States Weather Bureau of California says: "At the close of the month there is a heavy snow cover in the mountains and an abundant supply of water is in sight. The snow is well packed and the water content high. Even if there should be no more snow this winter, which is quite unlikely, there is enough now on the ground to meet the needs of the coming season."

Business on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in 1910, says L. V. Parsons, manager and assistant secretary, covered 16,279,627 shares (including 375 bonds) and amounted in value to $40,767,732. Oil stocks led with 12,906,886 shares, worth $7,980,987.

California oil companies whose dividend payments in the past twenty years, so far have exceeded $1,000,000, are (worth noting again, even though printed before):
 Union Oil Co. (script) $15,734,600
 Union Oil Co. (cash) 7,491,614
 and in cash:

 1910 10,767,732

Pig iron from the new electric furnace at Heroult, Shasta county, is in the market; electric development for both light and power is having much attention; in every line of industry activity prevails, including railroad improvement and extension; new mining enterprises are under way.

Citrus fruit shipments are large, some 6000 cars ahead of the same date last year. Fresh vegetable shipments from Southern California are holding up. Farmers and orchardists are preparing for a busy year. New orchard plantings are being made and the acreage of cereals is increased.

If more particular evidence of progress in Southern California is desired all that is necessary is for one to visit any business day the streets, the banks, the stores, the hotels, the clubs, the factories and the wholesale district of Los Angeles—relatively as busy as busy New York on a busy day.

Events in Local Society

Miss Olive Trask, who received last evening with Mrs. Cline, and who will assist at the Dickinson-Boothe Wedding next month.

A FASHIONABLE assemblage met at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cline, No. 678 Wilshire place, last evening. Miss Helen Dickinson and her betrothed, I. Jay Boothe, shared the honors, and a merry evening was enjoyed. Mrs. Cline was assisted by young women of the bridal party, who included Miss Fanny Todd Carpenter, Miss Edna Bradford, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Olive Trask, Miss Nora Dickinson and Miss Josephine Ihmsen.

A special feature was the music which was furnished by Miss Helen Tappe, Mrs. Wallace Cahill Ayers and Miss Ihmsen, who sang several of her own compositions. An orchestra, stationed behind a curtain of greenery played for the dancing.

The living and dining-rooms were decorated with jessamine and acacia blossoms, which were gracefully combined with greenery. A pretty arrangement in the conservatory was effected by the use of white doves suspended among rare plants. Refreshments were served in the pergola, where red and green lights were used. Eighty guests were present.

To Honor Sister.
Complimentary to Mrs. S. L. Kierstead of San Francisco, Mrs. Oscar M. Bryn, of South Hope street, will entertain with a charmingly appointed luncheon today. Acacia blossoms and ferns will adorn the rooms, and hand-decorated cards will mark covers for Mrs. Raleigh Miller, Mrs. Walter Burns, Miss Edith Todd, Mrs. Frederick C. Caldwell, Mrs. William Jordan, Mrs. Ralph Dobbs, Mrs. Raymond Hefelfinger, Miss Edith Benedict, Mrs. Dudley Elko, Mrs. M. Moss, Mrs. Wood and Miss Anne Troconiz.

Angeleno Complimented.
A royal welcome awaited Mrs. Bruce Lee Day of this city upon her arrival in San Francisco. The days have been gay with parties. One of the most delightful was the handsomely appointed tea given at the Palace Hotel by Mrs. J. de Barth Shor, and a large affair by Oakland friends.

Prominent Visitor.
Judge Sidney Ballou of Honolulu, who came East to address the Navy League, is the guest of his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coburn Turner, of No. 1001 West Washington street.

Popular Arrival.
Mme. Rounseville, a talented musician, who has come to this city to make her home, has been entertained at several interesting affairs given by Mrs. M. E. Bartlett at her residence, at Manhattan Beach. Mme. Rounseville is at home at No. 1634 South Burlington avenue.

Rumor Confirmed.
The sudden departure of Mrs. E. M. Keller and daughter, Miss Clea Keller, from this city February 8, was the cause of a pleasant bit of gossip that interested many friends in Los Angeles. The rumor was confirmed yesterday when a telegram was received announcing the wedding of the popular young society girl to Joseph Emmett Brownrigg of New York. The wedding took place at Des Moines, the Rev. Dr. T. H. Brownrigg, brother of the groom, officiating. The bride is a Stanford graduate, and also attended the University of Southern California, where she was a member of the Entre Nous Sorority. Mr. Brownrigg attended the University of Chicago, and is now engaged in business in New York. The young people will reside in New York.

From London.
Mrs. Frederick Blaisdell of London is among the most interesting visitors in Los Angeles just now. She is domiciled with her sister, Mrs. James M. Cockins, at No. 2825 South Figueroa street.

To Tour World.
W. D. Woolwine and family of Downey avenue will leave in a fortnight for a tour of the world. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Woolwine and Miss Woolwine regret their departure, and will look forward with pleasure to their home-coming.

From Canada.
Mrs. M. M. Seymour and daughters, the Misses Cora and Ema, of Regina, Saskatchewan, Can., are settled at No. 2087 West Twenty-ninth place for several months. Mrs. Seymour is president of the Board of Health in her home city.

Horse Show Gossip.

Several Express Willingness to Wed Pretty New Jersey Girls Who Are Searching for Husbands.

Four men have expressed a willingness to open negotiations for the hearts and hands of Violet Smith and Thelma Wagner, who wrote to the postmaster from Camden, N. J., to find them cowboy husbands.

Two more applications were received at the postoffice through the mail yesterday. Postmaster Harrison consigned the letters to the waste basket, but they were rescued. He declares that running a matrimonial bureau is out of his line.

J. C. White of Fresno, sent a self-addressed envelope in a letter which was written in the guise of an inquiry for the benefit of his cowboys. His communication follows:

"I just returned from my foothill ranch and one of my cowboys asked me to write you and get the address of those young ladies in Camden who wanted to correspond with cowboys and had their advertisement in the Los Angeles Times. As I generally grant their requests, I couldn't hardly get off without writing to you. As I always spend my vacations in your city, I will let you know in June how this affair terminates."

The other applicants for the addresses are Floyd Wolfe of Coalinga and Ed Brown and William F. Dale of this city.

Gas Talk Sensation

CHAPTER 23

Illuminating Gas

The first practical test of illuminating gas was made in 1786. London Bridge was by gas in 1813. The first company in America was incorporated in Baltimore in 1816, the second in 1822, and the third in New York in 1823.

Los Angeles saw its first gas in 1867—and now it enjoys a low rate of 80 cents per 100 feet that prevails in New Boston.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation was the pioneer manufacture of gas from oil. Developed the process through which Angeles has become one of the most gas cities of the United States. It was among the first to enter the market for home-produced gas. In the development of the oil, the consumer always has been the gainer through recurring in the charge for gas as the manufacture and distribution is reduced.

Angels Spin Yarns and Talk About Politics.

Recruits Are Doing Hardest Work in Camp.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

(The Times Staff Correspondent at Murrieta.)
MURRIETA, March 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The players did nothing today but talk politics, spin baseball yarns, play pinocle, write post cards to distant sweethearts, and visit Dr. Mud and the mineral plunge.

A cold, disagreeable rain drizzled nearly all day and prevented Dillon and his pets from practicing outdoors. The forecast shows the same sort of weather for tomorrow, but if there is any chance the Angels will be out for their fielding and batting practice in the morning. Dillon telephoned today to Hen Berry in Los Angeles and told the ivory-pated magnate to ship one medicine-ball post haste to Murrieta.

The local management and Dillon transformed the garage into a real honest-to-goodness gymnasium and if the rain continues the boys will work out in the gasoline glad-wagon hangar.

The pitchers will be able to toss the ball in the garage and can limber up to their heart's desire.

The clouds were less heavy later in the evening and signs point to a balmy soft-sailed California day tomorrow.

"Flame" Delhi, the big moulder, narrowly escaped serious injury this afternoon while diving in the plunge. Delhi, who towers 6 ft. 2 in. made a high dive into the deepest part of the plunge, which is seven feet deep. He struck his right cheek bone and eye on the cement bottom with terrific force, cutting his face slightly. He wears a pipkin of a black-and-blue lump over his eye. He will be in condition to toss 'em up tomorrow if the weather is clear. It was a narrow escape and Dillon warned members of the squad to be careful when diving.

Dillon visited the field this afternoon and found it to be in fine shape considering the heavy rain. There is a big puddle around third base, but the rest of the diamond and field is satisfactory.

Harry Deal, who was injured, is coming around all right and will don a uniform next week.

YOUNGSTERS WORK.

The youngsters and recruits are the ones who are furnishing most of the action and pepper here at Murrieta. The newly-signed bushers play at top speed from the moment the Angels' squad trots out on the field until they hike back to the mineral plunge for their daily swim and bath.

The recruits put on the high speed at the start of the season in their attempt to make good with the manager and captain. With the tried veterans it is different. They have been through the preceding many times and take things easy at first and do not get down to real fast playing until the season opens.

The training camp for the old boys means the elimination of the kinks in shoulders and arms that have developed during rest in the "closed season" months. Physically, the old players take it easy during the "training season," but do not for a moment imagine, Mr. Fan, that he hasn't anything to worry about. These, too, are anxious days for the veterans, because they fear the ability of youngsters to take their jobs away from them. They watch the youngsters who are trying for their respective positions like a hawk.

Some of the old players know their jobs are practically cinched and they take life very easy during the conditioning period. Many a promising youngster has marred his chances of getting "on" with a big professional team by heaving the ball too hard in spring practice. One hard throw or quick start may put a player out for the balance of the season. The old boys are the wise ones after all.

The Angels look awful good at this stage. I believe that Berry's pet will be 30 per cent. stronger at the bat and in the field than they were last season. Several of the recruits are fast on the bases, and this has always been a weak branch with the Angels. Thorsen has shown up fine in the

POLO TOURNEY STILL RUNNING.
GAME THIS AFTERNOON IF THE WEATHER IS GOOD.

English Noblemen Lined Up With Crack American Players—Malcolm Stevenson of New York Makes Good Showing—Frank Mackey on Deck.

The eyes of the polo world have been focused on the field at Coronado, where some of the best American players are now engaged in running out a tournament which began February 28 and which will end Saturday of this week.

In the line up of the two teams, the Blues and the Whites, are the names of two English noblemen, Lord Innes-Kerr and Tweedmouth, both crack players; Malcolm Stevenson, Fred McLaughlin, Maj. Colin Ross, Capt. Besley, Frank J. Mackey and W. H. Dupee, men whose names are familiar wherever polo is played and who are also known where the English tongue is spoken as men of wealth and position.

The Coronado polo grounds have been sold by the most prominent players to be the best in the world with no exception. Lord Tweedmouth who has played in England, South Africa and India and knows all of the great polo grounds, gives the palm to the grounds at Coronado.

In addition to the games showing record polo and superb riding they have become social events of increasing importance. The big Coronado and the U. S. Grant hotels have been crowded with thousands of wealthy tourists, who are spending the winter in Southern California. They have become polo mad and treke out to the polo grounds en masse for each game.

Trountment among the players is Malcolm Stevenson of New York and Chicago. His playing has been sensational and in truth the only man who could match him has been Maj. Colin Ross of Canada, who is perhaps one of the most superb horsemen on the Coast. The clashes between these two powerful men and superb sportsmen have been worth traveling across a continent to see. On opposing teams the outcome of each game has depended many times upon the individual clashes between these

CO-EDS BETTING BON-BONS ON MISS BEKINS' RACE.

(SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.)
REDLANDS, March 8.—The topic all-absorbing interest in the dormitories, on the campus, and even in the study rooms of the University and is one of the most popular young ladies of the institution. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bekins, are greatly beloved here for their magnificent gift to the University of Redlands, namely, Bekins Hall, the splendid new girls' dormitory recently completed at a cost of $35,000 and dedicated a few weeks ago, with a large reception attended by 700 persons. Mr. and Mrs. Bekins being the honor guests.

Betting is running high, all odds being in favor of Miss Bekins, and since the stakes are confined to boxes of bon-bons, ice cream sodas, new neckties and other such jinx cranks, the good Baptist professors are winking the other eye, shrugging their shoulders, and keeping mum; in fact, it is said that some of the "profs" themselves have a few side bets up on the popular co-ed.

A large number of students are planning to go down to the Angel City Friday afternoon in order to to cheer their plucky little fellow student on to victory.

Miss Bekins, who is a graduate of the Los Angeles High School, is a member of the Sophomore class of the university and is one of the most popular young ladies of the institution. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bekins, are greatly beloved here for their magnificent gift to the University of Redlands, namely, Bekins Hall, the splendid new girls' dormitory recently completed at a cost of $35,000 and dedicated a few weeks ago, with a large reception attended by 700 persons. RAIN OR SHINE GIRLS TO RACE.

Wet Weather Has No Terrors for Motor Maids.

Van Nuys Boulevard Selected as the Course.

Track Always in Condition for Speed Work.

Time: Friday, 2 p.m.
The place: Van Nuys boulevard, beyond Cahuenga Pass.
And the girls: Miss Beatrice d'Essling in a stock Apperson toy tonneau; Miss Ruth Bekins in a stock Biarritz Loxier.
Conditions: Five-mile heats; best two in three.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Miss Ruth Bekins and Miss Beatrice d'Essling are to race on the Van Nuys boulevard tomorrow afternoon. The first heat is to be started at 2 o'clock. It is impossible to get the boards of the Motordrome in time to practice for the race on Saturday. The stretch at Van Nuys has been set aside for the race.

The Van Nuys boulevard, with its perfect paving, will not be affected by the rains.

The course is as level as a floor and almost perfectly straight. It is as easily reached by train or automobile as the Motordrome.

The match will be run in three heats, five miles long.

Barney Oldfield will be starter. A standing start has been agreed upon. Both cars are to be strictly stock, subject to the ruling of a technical committee.

Mrs. Walter G. Hemenway, who drives a Stoddard-Dayton, will be referee.

Mrs. Roger Miller, who drives a Pullman, will be one of the judges, and O. K. Parker, of the McCarty-Parker Company, agents for the White, and Fred Flint, manager for the Stoddard-Dayton Motor Company will be the others.

The race is to start promptly at 2 o'clock. The girls will toss a coin for position. It is agreed that the pole car driver will keep as close to the curb as possible in order to give the other driver a chance to pass.

WEST OR DRY.

"I will race, rain or shine," said Miss Bekins yesterday. "My Loxier is ready and I am prepared to drive. No matter how stormy it is I will be prepared to race somewhere. I want this contest to come off and I believe the Loxier can win."

"I can drive in the rain. I'm not afraid of a shower or two," said Miss d'Essling. "The Apperson is ready and I can drive it faster than a mile a minute in the rain as well as any other time. I want this race to be held and I want to leave with 'The Arcadians' as a real champion. Oh, I do hope we can race."

Both girls are to use mechanics in the car during the race. This will only help them in case of an accident as the mechanic might be of service if the motor maid lost control of her machine, as it bounded over the smooth stretch of road.

Rain has only served to increase the desire of the motor maids who expect to race tomorrow afternoon. Arrangements were made yesterday to pull off the contest on the Van Nuys boulevard, where a five-mile straightaway offers a chance to test the speed of the two cars.

Miss Beatrice d'Essling, who is keeping her place in "The Arcadians" at the Mason, is also yearning for her place at the wheel of the Apperson toy tonneau, with which she expects to beat the Loxier.

Under the supervision of Leon T. Shettler, Miss d'Essling has gone into training in earnest for her race and she is ready to start at a minute's notice. She was out in the Apperson yesterday, and if tomorrow is no better than the afternoon weather of yesterday she will start.

The Van Nuys boulevard makes a hit with the Apperson girl. She wants a straightaway, and is happy because the race is to be held Friday afternoon when there is no matinee to bother her. She is sure she can win.

Miss d'Essling has a square chin, of course, she is a pretty girl, and so is

Collegians Score One on Fluke Run Home.

Leonard Shuts Out Leaguers
With Slow Ones.

Lynch Makes a Wonderful

OAKLAND, March 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A fluke run home by "Billy" Wallace, the youthful third baseman of the St. Mary's College Phoenix team, defeated Patsy Donovan's Red Sox in their first game of the training season at the college grounds, this afternoon. Wallace secured a three-base hit, but he completed the circuit of bases on Shortstop Wagner's error in juggling the ball after it had been returned from right field.

It all happened in the ninth inning. The game was of the A1 variety all the way through, but the real excitement took place in the ninth. Wallace, with two strikes on him and all prospects pointing to a scoreless nine innings, straightened out one of Bedding's curves. The ball soared high up along the first base line and was within a few inches of being a foul. Wallace tore around the bases until he reached third, where the catcher attempted to stop him. The third sacker took a chance and crossed the plate.

The score would not have been made but for Wagner's juggling diversion. The ball had been returned to the infield by Hooper, who made a long throw. Three men went after it, but it came to Wagner, who let it slide through his fingers, after which he jugged for a sufficient time to allow Wallace to score.

Donovan's big salaried artists made a strong bid to tie the score in their half of the ninth, but were balked by the sensational work of Norman Lynch. Things looked gloomy for the Collegians. Speaker, Boston's best pitcher, got a hit. One on the bases, none out, and Duffey Lewis—our Duffey—at the bat. Lewis, true to his reputation, slammed one of Leonard's underhanded deliveries sharp and high into extreme left field. It looked like a two-bagger and the game.

Lynch came in on the ball, jumped four feet into the air and pulled it down. Almost before his feet touched the ground, it seemed, he had thrown to the plate, catching the fleet Speaker at home. It was the most sensational play of the game. Wagner ended the contest by striking out.

Leonard's pitching for the college boys was the feature of the game. He went into the game with a sore arm and so lacked speed. But he had everything else on the calendar, including a good-natured grin that never left his face. He struck out only four of the red-stockinged players and allowed only four singles and a double.

SOX MUSICAL.

PLAYERS CATCH PELICAN.
REDONDO BEACH, March 8.—As a variation of the programme of card games and billiard matches with which the Red Sox while away the hours at Hotel Redondo these rainy days, a musical was given last evening in the hotel parlors by several of the Red Sox.

"Buck" O'Brien, the big baritone singer of the Red Sox Concert Company, sang, and Harold Janney, as young High School boy, proved as skillful with the violin as when on the field. Arthur Cooper, secretary of the Red Sox, acted as accompanist. "Doc" Green, the trainer, who is said to be an excellent violinist, but who has the reputation of being exceedingly shy, could not be persuaded to play.

Miss Anna LeVan, a guest of the hotel, also contributed to the programme with vocal and instrumental selections.

Although the baseball diamond was tottering for practice today, the majority of the players did some infield practice work this afternoon on the esplanade in front of the bath-house.

Thoney, Frank Smith and "Babe" Rubeenan, the hunting men of the Red Sox, returned today with a live pelican, which the other members of the party rudely claim was sick and unable to move.

Departs for Mining Country With Thoughts of Diamond Washed Out of His Mind.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
VISALIA, March 8.—Dressed in heavy chamois, with a pair of new, squaky, bright-red, high-laced boots, the most conspicuous feature of his costume, Dr. Overall left this morning for his mining claims at Angel's Camp, his last word to the fans here being: "No more baseball for mine—unless the mine pans out rotten."

Overall has been canny with his dollars in the last three years, and, in addition to his claims at Angels, which are said to be among the most valuable of the new workings in that camp, he has three slices of citrus land in the Lemon Cove district, one of which is in bearing trees, in itself sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. He is associated with his father, D. J. Overall, one of the leading grocers of the Cove, in several business ventures. In fact his business interests

Here's a Strange Elliott

Gertrude, the younger sister of the stately Maxine, who some people say is even more beautiful. Gertrude Elliott is a stranger to us, but the reason of that is her great and continued success in London, and, latterly, New York City. She is said to possess attributes which her "Roman Senator" sister is said to lack to a certain degree, viz.: deep emotional power and a great deal of warm human sympathy. Miss Elliott will be seen at the Hamburger Majestic Theater next week, in Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's play, "The Dawn of a Tomorrow."

GIRLS' MOTOR RACE.

Miss Bekins, but that is not the story of the race. Miss D'Esling has a claim which denotes strength, and she will step a little harder on the throttle if she has a chance to jump in front of the Lozier on the Van Nuys boulevard. When she talks of the race the face of the young Arcadian lights up and she at once becomes interested. If she was forced to leave town without a chance to enter a match event it would be a keen disappointment to the young woman, who has prepared faithfully for the contest. She expects to race, is willing to race, and unless the elements interfere, she will race.

Miss Ruth Bekins would be broken-hearted if the race did not come off. She is a co-ed who is used to winning, and is certain the Lozier will nose out the Apperson. She has agreed to race on the Van Nuys boulevard, and there is nothing to interfere with the contest, which will be pulled off in any kind of weather, as far as Miss Bekins is concerned.

SHE HAS NERVE.

It would be one of the disappointments of Miss Bekins' life if she did not have a chance to start against the Apperson. She has trained faithfully, though not as often as she would have desired. She wants to have at least one chance to send the Lozier at speed over the straightaway course.

Miss Bekins wanted the Motordrome. She had an idea that the Lozier would show to particular advantage on the boards. Perhaps she was right. At least she was right when she declared she is willing to drive, rain or shine. The look of determination on her face was enough. If it is necessary to open the throttle a little wider to win Miss Bekins will do so.

This contest has caused more comment among the automobile fraternity than any other motor race ever planned. Already the fact that the Lozier is up for the favorites. The Lozier has a strong bunch of rosters. The strongest are the students at the University of Redlands, while Miss Bekins is a favorite. They will go in a special train to Van Nuys to watch the contest and to root for the Lozier.

This should be one of the largest delegations of fans who will watch the race. The race is to be held in the afternoon. The girls can be watched racing along the smooth macadam highway and the two cars can be traced as they dash toward the finish line, which will be at the railroad depot in the center of the town.

PINE COURSE.

The course offers a splendid chance for the spectators to watch the contest. The start can be seen from the finish. The girls can be watched racing along the smooth macadam highway and the two cars can be traced as they dash toward the finish line, which will be at the railroad depot in the center of the town.

BLAIR IS CAPTAIN.

U.S.C. Monogram Men Select Leader for Next Season—Prospects Good for Fast Team.

Motta Blair, the crack forward on the U.S.C. basketball team, was elected captain for next year at a meeting yesterday of the varsity players, who won their monograms in the basketball game this year.

Blair has acted as captain during several games of the season, which has just closed, owing to the fact that Capt. Goodell was out of the game with a fractured knee. He has shown himself a good leader as well as a crack player and his choice was unanimous.

BOXING NOTES.

Jim Barry is still hurling challenges at Al Kaufman, but no one seems to pay any attention to the noise. As it required thirty-nine rounds for Kaufman to beat Barry in this city some months ago it is not likely that Al wants any more of Jim's game. If the bout had been at twenty-five rounds Barry would have had the decision.

Packey McFarland is to fight Paul Kohler at Akron, Ohio, on the night of March 22, the bout to be ten rounds. Packey is evidently trying to pick up a little change before he goes against a good one.

If Jim Barry is to meet Jeannette for ten rounds in New York, March 18, Jim should see to it that he receives an urgent telephone call to go to St. Paul just after he has supper that night.

Premier Pathfinder Climbs to Mountain Top.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN BERNARDINO, March 8.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Charles C. Young and Henry Krohn of Los Angeles safely ascended the San Bernardino Mountains to Squirrel Inn this afternoon in the famous Premier touring car, Pathfinder, on their thrilling mission to rescue Mrs. Krohn, Mrs. H. L. Cornish and Mrs. Overton, all of Los Angeles.

A night of rain and sleet had made the ascent additionally hazardous, but the difficulties were safely negotiated by the intrepid automobilists after four hours' effort.

The Pathfinder, with Young at the wheel and Krohn at his side, chugged out of the beautiful grounds at Arrowhead Hotel at 2 o'clock this afternoon. An earlier start had been made impossible by the freshening of the storm, which had transformed portions of the road until they resembled catwalks.

The rain broke again after they had gone some two miles, but as Krohn had telephoned the ladies that he had started, he had not the heart to turn back.

"We are going to get through," he phoned, "if we have to claw our path with our fingernails."

Four miles up the road they caught sight of a log rolling down upon them through the foamy slush. Krohn leaped into the torrent and with his hands guided the obstruction past the machine.

When the big car struck the snow it fairly skimmed over the whiteness, once or twice the men had to climb out and shovel a path through the drifts, but the perfect machinery of the Pathfinder seemed to develop new resources with each obstacle, and by 5:30, the worst of the battle was over.

CURES RHEUMATISM

More than forty years ago we said in our advertisements "S.S.S. Will Cure Rheumatism." We believed this because we knew Rheumatism to be a blood disease, and the ingredients and composition of S.S.S. we knew made it an unequalled blood purifier. This claim was a theory based on honest endeavor and belief. Today we say "S.S.S. Will Cure Rheumatism," and the statement is based on fact—on results accomplished; borne out by the unsought testimonials of thousands of persons who have cured themselves with this great remedy. What S.S.S. has done for so many others it will do for you, and we confidently recommend it to every Rheumatic sufferer who may read this article.

Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood, and while it is a disease which may be inherited, the great majority of cases are acquired as the result of irregularities of the system. The principal causes of the disease are constipation, weak kidneys, and indigestion, or improper assimilation of food. These internal disturbances of the system prevent the proper removal of the bodily waste and refuse matter, which souring in the intestines forms a urate salt which passes into the blood. The fermented acid destroys a portion of the healthful properties of the circulation, and changes the blood from a rich, nourishing stream to a thin, acid fluid which deposits its sharp, uratic impurities into the joints, muscles and nerves, causing the pain and soreness of tendons and flesh which always comes with Rheumatism.

The danger of Rheumatism is in temporizing in the treatment, or in failing to realize the powerful nature of the trouble. If the blood is allowed to remain infected with the uric acid, Rheumatism soon becomes chronic, and then if not checked it sometimes makes complete physical wrecks of its victims by permanently stiffening the joints and seriously interfering with the bodily nerve force.

An important thing to remember in the treatment of Rheumatism is, that while external applications will often relieve the acute pain of the trouble, such treatment cannot reach the blood. These measures should never be depended on alone to produce permanent good results. YOU CANNOT GET RID OF RHEUMATISM UNTIL YOU PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

S.S.S. goes into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by removing every particle of the uratic matter, and building up the blood to a healthful condition, this medicine destroys the cause and cures Rheumatism permanently. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood of the uric impurity, enriched and strengthened the circulation, then the nerves are quieted, the muscles become elastic, the blood tissues are thickened and freshened, all pain disappears, and the feverish, inflamed flesh is made comfortable again. Nothing equals S.S.S. as a cure for Rheumatism, because nothing equals it as a blood purifier. We have a special book on Rheumatism which contains much valuable information to sufferers of this disease; we will be glad to send this book, together with any special medical advice asked for, free of charge. If you have Rheumatism do not waste time with unknown medicines, begin the use of S.S.S. and be cured sound and well. S.S.S. is for sale at all drug stores.

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ROSE L. ELLERBE.

No matter how militant she might have been in action, no American judge would ever have sent Miss Sylvia Pankhurst to jail. A sweet young girl, dainty in appearance, unassuming, even appealing in manner, one glance from her clear blue eyes, one smile of her cherry lips, and our courts would have taken off their hats to her and escorted her to the door. Miss Pankhurst's earnestness, her simplicity, and, above all, her youthfulness, win the hearts of her opponents as well as her champions; at the same time, the keen, eager intelligence and the thoughtful mind revealed by her words and particularly by her questions, command admiration and respect.

This militant suffragette, who served her term in a common jail with criminals, might have been a debutante from a boarding school, with her fresh English complexion and lingerie frock; but she was the central figure at a charming luncheon at the California Club, Wednesday noon, when twenty-one of the suffrage leaders of this city sat down. After a visit to the County Jail, where she looked into the cells with a shudder, and a stop at the Juvenile Court, Miss Pankhurst was the guest of honor at a tea in the home of Miss Frances Pankhurst, the orator and the club, will be the number of the women of the city gathered for a pleasant informal hour, and were charmed by the quiet friendliness and unconscious bearing of their English sister.

Travel Club.
The members of the Travel Club will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pickering on Vermont avenue. This month the club is devoting to a Shakespearean tour and the afternoon will be devoted to the homes of Shakespeare's heroes. Mrs. Harold A. Gilman, the orator of the club, will lecture on this topic and Mrs. Ida Cox will give a reading.

Outing Parties.
The Adelphi Clubhouse of the Y. M. C. A., located at Venice, is to be opened for engagement for house parties for any women who wish to engage it, or for any women who would like to arrange for its use, by making application at least two weeks in advance of the time wanted to the general office. A housekeeper will be installed and rates made very reasonable, thus giving an opportunity for an outing at a small cost.

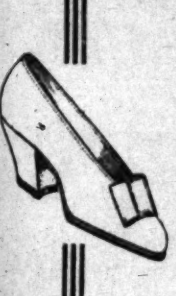

Dramatic Section.
At the regular meeting of the dramatic section of the Ebell Club tomorrow morning, Mrs. Ada Van Porter, secretary of this department, will read a paper on "What to Look for in a Play." This will be followed by the reading of "Ingramar," by Miss Franklin. The next meeting of this section will be postponed until the last Thursday in the month, March 30, when Elbert Hubbard will tell the members "What I Know About Vaudeville."

Parent-Teacher Association.
The Fifty-fourth Avenue Circle will hold its next regular meeting on Monday, March 13. Dr. Thomas Powell of the University of California, will give an address on "The Wise Mother."

CONDITION SERIOUS.
Miss Jeanette M. Tyner, No. 330 West Sixty-seventh street, who was struck by a car of Police Sebastian's automobile, Tuesday night, is in a serious condition at the California Hospital. It was stated at the hospital last night that the young woman had not regained consciousness.

WOMAN WRITER HERE TOMORROW ON SUFFRAGE ISSUE.

Ida Tarbell Doubtful About Interesting Her Sex in the Political Game—May Speak on This Visit.
The Anti-Bombard Long Beach Editors With Arguments.

Ida M. Tarbell is coming to Los Angeles tomorrow and if she wants an opportunity to reply to suffragettes or suffragists, the Southern California Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage will be glad to give her an engagement. Had Miss Tarbell's arrival been two days earlier, she might have met Sylvia Pankhurst in debate at the Auditorium. This may happen somewhere in the State, if not here.

Miss Tarbell has not taken the platform chronically against suffrage, but if she can speak as cleverly as she can write, and if she holds to her original ideas on the subject of political equality, Los Angeles women opposed to suffrage think it would be a brilliant coup to have her speak while here.

Miss Tarbell wrote a letter to the New York State Association Opposed to Suffrage, which put her squarely before the public upon this issue. At that time, she gave the following reasons for her opposition to votes for women:

"First—That I fear suffrage will take the attention of women from what I believe to be their real civic duties, by interesting them in the political game, when they should be concentrating their attention on specific civic work."
"Second—I believe that universal male suffrage is still so far from being what it should be, that it is unwise to double its evils just at present, as we certainly should by extending the vote to all the women. In some respects, certain evils of the ballot would be more than doubled. I am far from denying that good might result in some ways, but, in my judgment, it is more than counterbalanced by the harm that would come."

ARCH BEACH is the most picturesque of all the beach properties along the coast near Los Angeles, is rugged and rough in rocky outline excepting in the places where nature has left a white sandy stretch, ideal for bathing. ARCH BEACH is a mountain and seaside resort.

ARCH BEACH HEIGHTS is only one mile from Laguna Beach and only six miles from Balboa, which is reached by the P. E. R. R., and is on the direct coast line road to San Diego.

Come to our office and see pictures of the artistic bungalows now built at Arch Beach and the 50 other views of this and surrounding property.

Outside of our own subdivision not a lot is for sale for less than $150 anywhere within a mile. Property adjoining ours sells at $350 a lot and up.
